

美洲華人生物科學學會

Society of Chinese Bioscientists in America

June 19, 2008

President

Robert K. Yu, PhD, MedScD

Secretary

Yun-Fai Chris Lau, PhD

Treasurer

Dihua Yu, MD, PhD

Executive Director

Joseph K.-K. Li, PhD
JosephLi@biology.usu.edu

Council Members

Shiuan Chen, PhD
Kenneth Fong, PhD
Kuan-Teh Jeang, MD, PhD
Jualian G. Kiang, PhD
Haifan Lin, PhD
Yun-Bo Shi, PhD
Tung-Tien H. Sun, PhD
Ming-Jer Tsai, PhD
Sophia Tsai, PhD
Xiao-Fan Wang, PhD
Flossie Wong-Staal, PhD
Reen Wu, PhD

Administrative Assistant

JoAnn Starks
JoAnn@biology.usu.edu

SCBA Office

20 South 200 East
Smithfield, UT 84335
USA
Tel: 435-797-1914
435-563-5465
Fax: 435-797-1575

SCBA Website

<http://www.SCBAociety.org/>

Dear Members:

On behalf of the Society of Chinese Bioscientists in America (SCBA), I would like to invite you to participate in our Biennial Meeting to be held from June 15-18, 2009, in Academia Sinica, Taipei, Taiwan. The theme of this meeting is: Science for a Healthier and Better Life. We expect to have an attendance of about 1,000-1,500 participants from all over the world, including many prominent scientists as well as graduate and post-graduate students. In the past, SCBA Symposia had served as important platforms for scientific training, interaction, collaboration, cooperation and social/business networking among the participants. They have been supported by many established individuals, business leaders and fellow scientists. As the President of SCBA, I would appreciate your generous financial support for this exciting meeting in 2009.

SCBA was founded by few prominent and enthusiastic bioscientists in 1984. The major objectives of the Society are: to promote research in biosciences, to advance biological and medical knowledge, to improve occupational opportunities of its members, to facilitate professional networking among members, and to establish a spirit of fraternity and international cooperation. Currently, the Society has about 3,000 members from various universities, academics, medical institutions, pharmaceutical and biotechnological industries. Over 40 SCBA Chapters have been formed in the US, Canada, Mainland China, Taiwan, Hong Kong, Singapore, and Europe. SCBA members work independently and collaboratively with global scientists to establish scientific investigations and joint pharmaceutical ventures. For additional information about SCBA, please visit our Society website, <http://www.SCBAociety.org/>.

SCBA is a non-profit organization. We need your generous support for all our activities, especially for the Biennial Meeting. Our success depends on your generous donations, which will be used to sponsor such events as scientific programs, scholarships and fellowships, travel awards, junior or senior research awards, and other designated functions of your choice. In particular, we plan to celebrate our 25th Anniversary in Taiwan in a Gala event with special programs to commemorate this occasion. The following are suggested categories for donations:

GUARANTORS--US$10,000 and up

BENEFECTORS--US$2,500 - $9,999

SPONSORS--US$1,000 - $2,499

PATRONS—US$100 - $999

美洲華人生物科學學會

Society of Chinese Bioscientists in America

For contributions, which are tax deductible, please send your check payable to “Society of Chinese Bioscientists in America” to:

Attn: Dihua Yu, MD, PhD
Treasurer, SCBA
Nylene Eckles Distinguished Professor
Department of Molecular and Cellular Oncology
Director, Cancer Biology Program
Unit 108, Rm. B7.4527
The University of Texas M. D. Anderson Cancer Center
1515 Holcombe Blvd
Houston, TX 77030

Tel. 713-792-3636; E-mail: dyu@mdanderson.org

With best wishes,

Sincerely yours,

Robert Yu

Robert K. Yu, PhD, MedScD
President, SCBA
Professor and Director
Institute of Molecular Medicine and Genetics
Medical College of Georgia
1120 15th Street
Augusta, GA 30912
E-mail: ryu@mcg.edu